“The Game of Life: Finding Your Next Step”

Steven Cornelio pegs himself as a new age "visual-ist". Committed to executing his creative mindset through the media, he has curated websites, digital campaigns, and marketing schemes.

Currently, he's studying Broadcast Journalism with a minor in Public Relations at SUNY Buffalo State. Born in Manhattan, New York, the fast-paced, never sleep lifestyle is something he credits to his experiences and determination in life.

At 22 years of age, Cornelio has created his own opportunities that all lead to his ultimate goal of being a multimedia maven.

Two websites, a video blog, and internships with companies like Teen Vogue and Showtime Networks; he's ready to take it the next level.

Cornelio is getting ready to graduate and work full time in the media industry. His passion, motivation, and eagerness pushed him to later build his own platform and continue to strive.
